

What went well in the sprint?

This sprint we didn't really complete any meaningful user stories but we did however create some javadoc. We also have written our final project report as this is due next week.

What could be improved?

This week a lot of group members had exams to study for so I guess what we could have improved upon was better planning so that working would not be so stressful for us.

What will we commit to improve in the next?

Since there are no more sprints we are sufficient with what we have created for the course and there isn't really anything that we will commit other than take our knowledge with us for future projects!
